EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY.

growth of the church spiritually, numerically and financially under the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Ellington.

Mrs. Virginia W. Broughton, "On Behalf of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies," spoke, as is usual with her, entertainingly and forcefully concerning the splendid efforts of the women and what they have accomplished during the time of the present pastor. She gave out much information that will be helpful to the younger women who must assume the task of the older ones in the future. Mrs. Broughton closed by paying a glowing tribute to the pastor on behalf of the noble, earnest and faithful Christian women of the church.

Mr. J. D. Crenshaw, Superintendent, in speaking "On Behalf of the Sunday-School," told of the inestimable good being achieved by Rev. Mr. Ellington as Editorial Secretary of the National Baptist Publishing Board, in writing and preparing Sunday-school literature for the 2,500,000 Negro Baptists of this country. "Through the medium of wholesome and religious literature," he said, "Rev. Ellington is speaking to the children of his people more effectively than words can tell, and writing his name upon the hearts of the people, where it will live more enduringly than were it carved or engraved upon shaft of granite or tablet of brass."

In view of the time that had been taken up by the program, Rev. Mr. Ellington only preached a short sermon, after which he was presented a beautiful walking-cane.

Prof. S. P. Harris, on behalf of the ladies of the church, in a most happy and felicitous speech, presented Rev. Mr. Ellington a beautifully chased, gold-headed, ebony walking-cane, with his name and date of presentation engraved upon the head of it. He said that the gift was made on the part of the ladies to manifest their deep appreciation of the eminent services which have been rendered by the pastor during his pastorate. The speaker made it very clear that merit will win. He said, "Despite untoward conditions or circumstances, it is a fact that merit in the end will win." "From time immemorial, far back where the memory of man runneth not," said he, "merit has won, and it is a manifest fact it will ever win. Now, Rev. Ellington, I take pleasure in presenting to you this beautiful token from the ladies to show the deep Christian regard they entertain for you and your services."

Rev. Mr. Ellington responded in a sincere and earnest way to all that had been done by way of honoring him. He thanked all for their kind encouragement, and said, "Whatever I have done, or if my services have been helpful, rendering others better and happier, I attribute it all to the Lord who has made it possible. To Him be the glory and praise! Again, I thank you all, and say that the words spoken here to-day shall encourage me to try to do more in the future."

The choir, assisted by Mrs. Preston Taylor and Miss Nora Berry, rendered some excellent music, which was interspersed throughout the program. Miss Berry sang a pleasing solo, as also did Mrs. Taylor.

After the taking up of a collection of $32.00, the services were closed by the pastor.

Mrs. Aaron Dodd presented the pastor with a fine and beautiful cake. Rev. Mr. Ellington on next Sunday, March 15, will preach on "The Exaltation of Nations."
